Case Study 1

Client: Prudential

Project Overview

Stephen Jabs was commissioned to undertake the redecoration and modernisation of the ground-floor office space in the iconic Prudential Building, located in the heart of Bristol's bustling Wine Street. This Grade-listed building, known for its architectural grandeur and historical significance, demanded a high-end, sensitive approach that blended heritage with a contemporary aesthetic.

Design Vision

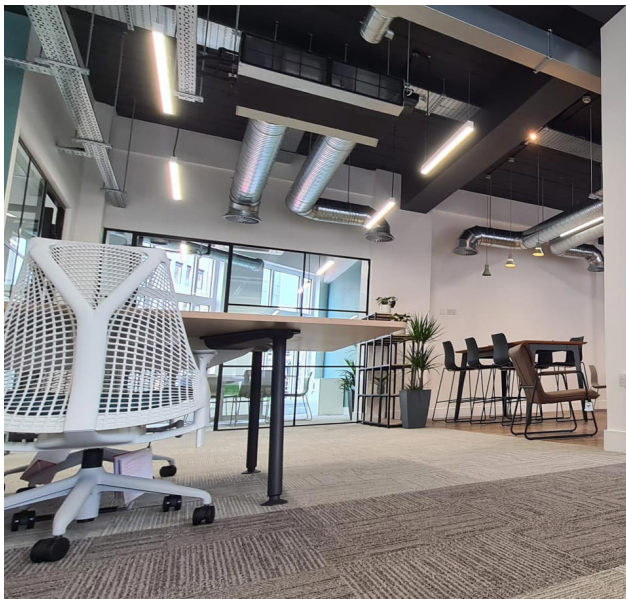

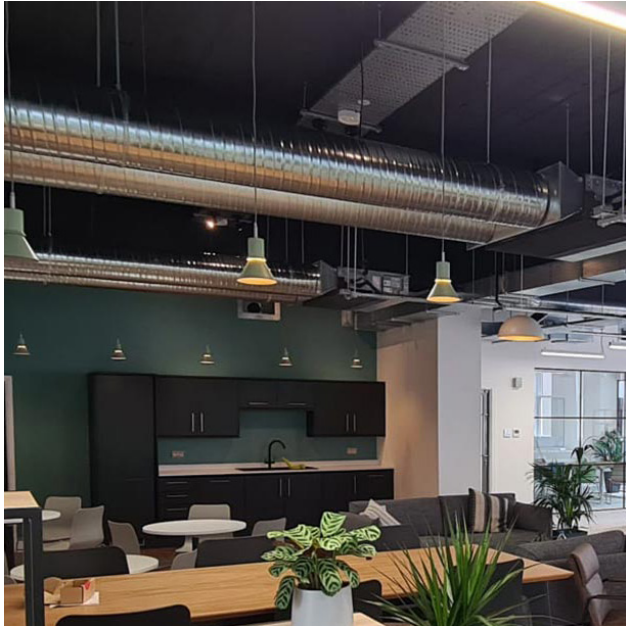

The primary objective was to deliver a modern and classy fit-out that honoured the building's Victorian roots while creating a bold, forward-looking office environment suitable for a dynamic city-centre workspace.

Challenges and Solutions

Working within a listed building in a busy city centre presented a range of logistical and conservation-related challenges. Coordination with heritage officers and managing disruption within the building required meticulous planning and execution. Stephen Jabs and his team ensured that all redecoration was sympathetic to the original features, with modern interventions that enhanced rather than overshadowed the existing architecture.

Outcome

The result is a striking transformation that positions the Prudential Building's ground floor as a leading example of modern office space within a heritage context. The redecoration successfully merges old and new, preserving the building's character while delivering a fit-for-purpose, inspirational workspace in one of Bristol's most prominent addresses.

Case Study 2

Client: MAN Truck & Bus Company

Project Overview

MAN Truck & Bus Company, a leading name in commercial vehicle manufacturing and maintenance, appointed our client to carry out a full refurbishment of their Avonmouth depot which we were instructed to carry out the full redecoration of the external cladding, interior offices over two floors and various areas of the workshop. The aim was to modernise both the interior office spaces and the external appearance of the site to reflect the company's high standards and forward-thinking brand.

Design Vision

Working within a live operational site: We maintained close communication with site management to ensure works were completed safely and efficiently, with minimal disruption to day-to-day business operations.

Weather-dependent external works: Our team remained flexible and responsive to changing weather conditions to ensure the external painting stayed on track.

Results

The Avonmouth depot now benefits from a refreshed and revitalised environment. The upgraded office and reception spaces provide a more productive and welcoming setting for staff and clients, while the newly painted exterior gives the site a clean, professional look in line with the MAN Truck & Bus brand.

This project demonstrates how thoughtful refurbishment can improve both aesthetics and functionality across commercial premises.
